SEA-PACC-PNG - FEBRUARY 2011

AN ASSESSMENT OF THE VULNERABILITY OF THE PEOPLE OF KIVORI, CENTRAL PROVINCE OF PAPUA NEW GUINEA UNDER THE IMPACTS OF CLIMATE CHANGE

PACC IS A REAL HIT IN PNG! Even the Kivori animals are excited! Here's one participating in one of the Feb 2011 SEA-PACC Meetings! If only we knew what this "DO(G)UY" was thinking. We can only guess; but it seems he knows our world (his, ours) is under threat and for that matter our very lives – his, ours!

(And come to think of it...it is true that no one really noticed this dog was in that meeting; and he may know that nobody really noticed him, however much the intent and attention he displays with his pose. But to us that is just natural because that is the way we were and are from centuries of our immemorial past: our fauna, our flora, our environment – Nature; we never deeply contemplated on anything our fellow Earth inhabitants try to point us out to, everything including the extremely important tacit realities that lie deep within the realm of the unspoken – viz. inside a dog's head).
